No. 37 - 76

TITLE/SIGNIFICANCE: Civil Defense Personnel Shelters

Two types of civil defense personnel shelters have been identified in the USSR. The two types have been designated A and B, and these designations will be used in future reporting of all civil defense shelters.

COMMENT: Type A consists of all detached or semidetached bunker-type shelters. Figures 1 through 3 show design variations of the bunker-type shelters. Type B consists of all sub-surface basement shelters. Figure 4 shows a type B shelter in the early and mid stages of construction. A uniquely configured combination bunker and building (See IEG PI Notice No 30/75) has also been identified in the USSR, but this bunker and building combination type is associated with KGB command and control installations.
